ETERNAL LIFE – HEAVENLY FOOD

This is what all people have been made for; this is what we Christians have been reborn to.

From a life of frustrated ambitions, we have been baptized into a life with no limits.

This is the life which our young people, your sons and daughters, have now fully received. Strengthened by Confirmation, nourished by the Eucharist, they are fully alive in Christ's life.

How will they live it? With your guidance and example.

'You have asked to have your children baptized. In doing so you are accepting the responsibility of training them in the practice of the faith. It will be your duty to bring them up to keep God's commandments, as Christ taught us, by loving God and our neighbour. Do you clearly understand what you are undertaking?' (The Rite of Baptism for Children, no.39)

'Oh, yes, of course, Father' is the invariable reply – but do you really?

You cannot fulfil that responsibility by sending them to a Catholic school – although that should help.

It has been noted in our parish that we do not have a suitable program of preparation for parents bringing children for Baptism. This lack will be overcome in December. A program has been selected, and parishioners recruited to conduct it.

We must, because the parents of young children today come from a generation that knows little of the Catholic faith, or have forgotten the reasons for what we do. The causes of this are debatable, and probably not as simple as many would like to assert. How to overcome this lack is likely the critical challenge facing the Church in Australia (and other countries).

It is particularly urgent considering the way the secular worldview is influencing all sectors and levels of society. Same-sex marriage, gender re-assignment, anti-life policies, and other anomalies are symptoms of a world that has lost touch with God's plan for us.

We are to have hope, because God is a loving God. We are to hope because God has made us rational creatures. Reason, with honesty and dialogue, will eventually see how the human being is not benefiting from such practices, after all. It is already happening.

What is Important to You?

When we make things so important that we cannot live without them, then they are more important than people or more important than God. In today's Gospel, Jesus teaches us that nothing should be that important. The really important things we have are the things we can give to others and to God. Everything comes from God. When Jesus asks us to follow him and to give away our things, we are giving back to God. Here is the best part. When we give up things, then God gives us a new life, which is even greater than the one we have today. God gives us things that are more important than toys, more beautiful, and far more loving. Amen.

We need to see each child as a gift to be welcomed, cherished, and protected.

Homily of his Holiness Pope Francis, Rizal Park, Manila, 18 January 2015

WHAT HAPPENS AT MASS

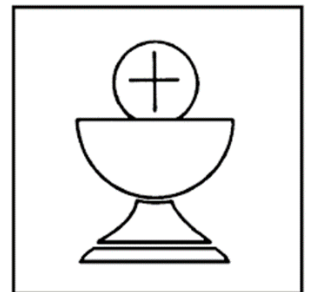

More on 'the Mysteries'

We also use the word [mystery] to refer to the central content of Christian faith: the mystery of the Holy Trinity. Again, this does not mean that which we cannot understand about the Trinity. It means that in the concrete life of Jesus is hidden and now revealed the one God: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

The concrete life of Jesus, as this culminates in his death, is called the Paschal Mystery, meaning that from his death unfolds the Resurrection, the ascension, the sending forth of the Spirit, the Church.

In all of these usages ... the word mystery preserves the tension between the concrete and the divine. Something is definitely present, but what is present exceeds and overflows the limits of the concrete, even if it is present only by means of it. (p.4)

MARRIAGE MATTERS

Consent to Love God Above all Else;
Seek to not Force Anything

Today, Jesus sets out the cost of discipleship: “none of you can be my disciple unless he gives up all his possessions”. Throughout His life and in dying for us, Jesus demonstrated a self-emptying way of loving. As His disciples, our call is to follow Him by putting each other first; thereby dying to selfishness and setting ourselves free.

Today's Readings
23rd Sunday - Year C

Entrance Antiphon

You are just, O Lord, and your judgement is right;
treat your servant in accord with your merciful love.

A reading from the book of Wisdom Wisdom 9:13-18

A reading from the letter of St Paul to Philemon Philemon 1: 9-10, 12-17

Alleluia, alleluia!
Let your face shine on your servant,
and teach me your laws.
Alleluia!

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Luke Luke 14:25-33

Communion Antiphon

Like the deer that yearns for running streams,
so my soul is yearning for you, my God;
my soul is thirsting for God, the living God.

Responsorial Psalm

You turn men back in to dust and say:
'Go back, sons of men.' To your eyes a thousand years are like yesterday, come and gone,
no more than a watch in the night.

You sweep men away like a dream,
like grass which springs up in the morning.
In the morning it springs up and flowers:
by evening it withers and fades.

Make us know the shortness of our life
that we may gain wisdom of heart.
Lord, relent! Is your anger for ever?
Show pity to your servants.

In the morning, fill us with your love;
we shall exult and rejoice all our days.
Let the favour of the Lord be upon us:
give success to the work of our hands.

Next Week's Readings:

Exodus 32:7-11, 13-14
1 Timothy 1:12-17
Luke 15:1-32
