AN INDIGENOUS VOICE TO PARLIAMENT; part 3 of 3

The final excerpt from Fr Frank Brennan's Catholic Weekly article, 17 March 2023:

6. The Constitution belongs to all the people. It cannot be amended except with an overwhelming majority of the people. Educate yourselves about the Aboriginal aspirations at Uluru and be ready to discuss those aspirations at the family meal, the workplace BBQ or the local club.

7. Do something to get this issue of constitutional recognition on the right track. Speak to your local member. Ask that the parliament set up a process so everyone can have their say and so that the major political parties can own whatever is proposed. This is not just a matter for Indigenous leaders. It is not just a matter for the government. It involves all of us.

8. Having decided which Aboriginal aspirations are justified, you then need to make a wise decision about which of those aspirations are politically achievable. Don't be afraid to talk to people with varying views when making that decision.

9. Having decided which Aboriginal aspirations are not only justified but achievable, you then need to decide to act. You need to put some skin in the game. You need to decide what concrete and just actions you will take. It's not enough just to vote when the referendum comes around. You need to get on board urging the parliament to put the right proposition to the vote, and helping your fellow citizens make an informed choice.

10. Be respectful and attentive to those who disagree with you, but don't be afraid to demand that they be respectful and attentive to you. Any national Voice worth its salt will have an elaborate system of local and regional ears to hear the local and regional voices which are needed to give credibility to any national Voice. That will be complex. There will be plenty of room for disagreement.

Whatever the politics of this referendum, we all need to take to heart Noel Pearson's chilling observation about his people: "We are a much unloved people. We are perhaps the ethnic group Australians feel least connected to. We are not popular and we are not personally known to many Australians. Few have met us and a small minority count us as friends."

MARRIAGE MATTERS

I am in You and You are in Me

Jesus says, "To have seen me is to have seen the Father". In our married life, through the visible sign of the way we love each other, when people meet one of us we can be a sign that 'when seeing me, you see the one I love, in me and with me', thus emulating Jesus' relationship with His Father.

WHAT HAPPENS AT MASS

JEREMY DESCOLL, O.S.B.

THE LITURGY OF THE WORD

Intro. 'God does not cease to speak... To say "the Word became flesh and made his dwelling among us" is to say that God is now making His Word to sound within this history of sin, not through the creation alone but by His own acting among us. In the Word made flesh, in Jesus Christ, human beings can hear again who and what God is. ... Christians were able to understand that in fact God was already speaking in human history in that He was preparing history for this uttering of His final Word. ... As the world was approaching this "final age" – final because God can say no more than He has said in Christ – the setting in which the Word will be definitively uttered is focused in the history of Israel.' (pp. 32-33)

Jesus is the Way

When we are trying to follow Jesus in our daily life, it would be nice to have a GPS to lead us in the right direction, wouldn't it? It would be nice to have something to keep us on the right path and keep us from getting lost...something that would help us get back on the right track when we made a wrong decision.

Sometimes life can be very confusing and we don't know where to turn or what path to take. It seems that every path we take leads to a dead end.

When that happens, we just need to remember that Jesus said, "I am the way, the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me." If we will keep our eyes on Jesus and follow his teaching, we will find the path to our goal -- eternal life in Heaven with him. We can only come to God through Jesus.

Heavenly Father, we thank you for sending your Son to provide the way to eternal life. Thank you for your Holy Word which will keep us on the right path in our journey through life. In Jesus' name we pray, Amen

Thank you to everyone who supported our April Aid appeal. Forty packs were made with your generous donations.

The Winter Appeal starts the weekend on of May 13/14. Envelopes will be made available at the Masses.
