Conversion theme emerging strongly in Synod meetings

Archbishop Costelloe SDB (Perth Archdiocese)
25 October 2023

Those who have been part of the synodal journey will know that Pope Francis calls us to “throw open the doors” and make the Church a welcoming home for all, writes Archbishop Timothy Costelloe SDB.

According to one of our Australian biblical scholars, Fr Brendan Byrne SJ, this idea of welcome and open-hearted generosity lies at the centre of St Luke's Gospel. He titles his commentary on this gospel “The Hospitality of God”.

It is Jesus who embodies this divine hospitality for all, especially the poorest and most needy. As his disciples, who are called to be Instruments of his peace, we are the ones through whom God wishes to extend the hand of friendship, of welcome, of compassion and of love.

The image of the Church as a home and as a place where everyone is welcome has often been on the lips of Pope Francis during the Synod on Synodality. He keeps insisting that all are welcome in the Church – “tutti, tutti, tutti” (everyone, everyone, everyone) he says over and over again. No one is excluded because he or she is a sinner, because in reality we are all sinners. Similarly, no one is excluded from the invitation to “repent and believe in the Good News” because we all have need of conversion.

The theme of conversion is emerging very strongly in the discussions during the Synod meetings. There is a growing realisation that any proposed changes to Church structures, and to the exercise of authority, will be fruitless unless these changes are accompanied by a conversion of heart.

As a community of faith, we are recognising more and more that any exercise of authority in the Church, whether it be by clergy, religious or laity, needs to be based on the example of Jesus, who described Himself as “meek and humble of heart”.

The gospels tell us that the people who encountered Jesus were amazed because he taught with authority – but what this means is that his words were matched by his actions. If some are wondering if the Synod will make any real difference in the Church, part of the answer will lie in the willingness of our leaders, both clerical and lay, to be challenged by the example of Jesus. This is one of a series of columns Archbishop Costelloe, who is one of nine president-delegates for the Synod, is writing during the Synod's first assembly this month.

MARRIAGE MATTERS

How Can I Best Love You Today?

In today's gospel Jesus says love should be at the centre of our lives, so we must ask 'How can I best love my partner today?' To know how our partner experiences our love best, we need to explore together whether it is through compliments, special time together, presents or acts of service.

WHAT HAPPENS AT MASS

JEREMY DISCOLO, OSB

THE HOMILY The bishop's communion with the other bishops of the world through his communion with the pope is the verifiable assurance that from this bishop we hear the faith of the apostles. And the communion of priests and deacons with their bishop is the same verifiable assurance. .. It is the preacher's responsibility to listen .. to all that is said .. by means of the particular texts that have been proclaimed. ..

he will propose to the assembly ways of ensuring that God's word finds its home in our hearts and that we respond to it as we ought. (pp.52-53)

Morning Tea Volunteers

We need more volunteers to help with morning tea after the 10 am Mass at Rosary. If you can help please contact the Parish office or speak to Siobhan at the 10 am Mass.

The Greatest Commandment

What does Jesus say the greatest commandment is? At first you might think that the most important thing would be to not kill anyone, wouldn't you? But that's not what He says! The very most important thing is to love God with our whole heart and soul and mind! It means that we must do everything we do for the love of God, and live our whole life completely for Him.

But how do we love God so much? Well, we can practice little by little loving Him more each day. Paying attention at Mass and saying a prayer every day would be a good start. Every morning tell God that you will do everything for Him today. Try to think of God through the day. Every night before you go to bed, thank God for all that He has done for you and tell Him you're sorry for the things you've done that might have not been God's will.

The second commandment that Jesus tells us is that we should love others as much as we love ourselves. Now, what does it mean to love other people the way you love yourself? We could treat them like we want to be treated, be kind to them, forgive them when they hurt our feelings, be helpful in times of trouble and be their friends.

Prayer:

Dear Father, help us to love you with all our heart, soul, and strength -- and to love one another as we love ourselves. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.
